Germans Bring Reinforcements To Rome Sector

Yanks Surge Into Outskirts Of Campoleone And Cisterna Along Apennine Way

ALLIES SCORE NEW GAINS IN ITALY

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Feb. 1.—American troops surged into the outskirts of Campoleone and Cisterna along the ancient Apennine Way today in an attack which crushed Nazi defense positions.

The Yanks launched their attack from the Anzio landing area south of Rome after repulsing a German counter-attack which sought to hold up the inland advance to Cisterna, 28 miles below the Eternal City.

The American drive was the first determined assault since British and American forces secured the bridgehead in the Anzio-Nettuno region.

Pressure Stepped Up

Pressure was stepped up simultaneously against the enemy on the main Fifth Army front along the Minturno-Cassino line, 60 miles below the Rome bridgehead, and also on the Adriatic coast manned by British Eighth Army troops.

American, British and French forces driving in against the Nazi Gustav line defenses stretching northeast from the Tyrrhenian Sea coast above Minturno through Cassino scored advances at many points despite numerous German counter-attacks.

The resistance of the Nazis from their prepared positions was stubborn.

The advance on the Adriatic side was scored by Canadian troops who pressed forward against stiff opposition in the coastal sector.

Elsewhere on the Eighth Army front increasing patrol activity was reported.

Nazis Bring Reinforcements

The Germans were revealed to be bringing troop reinforcements down from north of Rome in an effort to cope with the Allied forces spreading out from the beachhead below the capital. Previously Nazi Field Marshal General Albert Kesselring had ordered the evacuation of the beachhead.

Fourth War Loan Drive Total Jumps To $5,806,312 Today

All persons and corporations in Lawrence County that have subscribed to the Fourth War Loan can stand up today and take a bow. A big one. The grand total of war bonds purchased in Lawrence County as of today at noon is $5,806,312.25 according to the report made by the deputy executive director, Roger Jewett.

After taking the bow everybody can take up another notch in the belt, spit on their hands and get going a little harder for the report today is still over $800,000 back of the quota of $6,666,450. It's the last million that is always the toughest and it's on the last million lap right now. The bond campaign closes on February 15.

By Districts

The report issued today at noon is a breakdown of the campaign by districts and by bond denominations. The totals by districts follow. New Castle $3,413,408.75, Ellwood City $2,088,149.75, Bessemer, $92,979, New Wilmington, $74,784, Wampum, $27,536.50 and Volant $22,936.25.

In the break down of denominations show $831,414.25 in "E" bonds, $46,268.50 in "F" bonds and $141,829.50 in "G" bonds. The balance represents industrial purchases which indicates as in the Third loan (Continued On Page Two)

Two More Raids Against Rabaul

At Least 36 More Japanese Planes Destroyed During Attacks

TOTAL OF 482 PLANES DESTROYED IN MONTH

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS IN NEW GUINEA. Feb. 1.—Two more raids against Rabaul, in which at least 36 additional enemy planes were destroyed, increased to 27 today the number of Allied assaults during January against the Japs' key base on New Britain.

However, the possibility that this total might be raised in subsequent reports was not discounted, for this pair of assaults occurred Saturday and they were but part of an incessant campaign to neutralize the enemy's tottering bastion.

Dual Raids

Liberator heavy bombers teamed with torpedo and dive bomber in the dual raids against Rabaul's Lakunai and Toba airfields. The Americans destroyed 12 enemy aircraft on the ground, knocked out six gun emplacements, wrecked several buildings and kindled large fires.

When some 50 Japanese Zeros rose to challenge the raiders, 24 of the interceptors were shot down in flames while six others were listed as "probably" destroyed. As against these enemy losses, the Allied formations suffered only "minor" losses and damage.

In the Saturday raids, which brought to 482 the number of Jap aircraft definitely destroyed at Rabaul during January, the escorted Liberators struck first. The torpedo and dive bombers followed up their assault.

Elsewhere on New Britain, Allied air patrols destroyed or damaged five Jap barges between Cape Hollar and Rein Bay, and beat off two "minor" enemy raids against American positions at Arara.

JAP DUPLICITY CAUSED DELAY IN REVELATIONS

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The American Red Cross North Atlantic area conference, in session today in New York, was told by Vice President Richard F. Allen how Japanese duplicity succeeded in delaying relief for Jap atrocities in the Philippines for six months.

He said when the government first learned of the revolting treatment of Americans and Filipinos, the Japanese government, simultaneously suggested shipment of Red Cross relief supplies to the victims via Vladivostok, whence Jap ships would take them to prison camps, but that the Japs failed to fulfill their part of their own proposal.

The U. S. Army and Navy at that time agreed to withhold publication of the atrocity stories, Allen said, because "it was thought more important for the war prisoners to get relief than for the American public to know what happened."

Allen said little hope of getting the Vladivostok shipment to the war prisoners. He said Jap-held Allied Nationals in northern China are being "fairly well" but that international Red Cross representatives never have been permitted to visit prison camps in the Philippines, Singapore, Java or Thailand.

Bitter Street Fighting In Kingisepp, Last Important Town East Of Frontier

OTHER UNITS DRIVE TOWARD LATVIA

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Feb. 1.—Bitter street fighting raged today within Kingisepp, last important enemy-held railroad town east of the Estonian border, and flanking columns of the Red army were expected to smash their way momentarily across the frontier.

A frontline correspondent for the Soviet army newspaper Red Star said that within Kingisepp the Russians are dislodging the Germans house by house.

Score Gains

Gen. Leonid Govorov's troops, scoring important gains all along a 110-mile arc-shaped front, overran more than 60 towns and villages from the Gulf of Finland to Dneprovskaya on the Leningrad-Luga-Pskov railroad. Among the places wrested from the Germans was Krikovo, some five miles from the Estonian frontier and ten miles northeast of Kingisepp which is eight miles from the border.

(Stockholm dispatches to the London Daily Mail said the Russians who are by-passing Kingisepp "are about to cross the Estonian frontier.")

Southern Austria Plants Bombed

Heavy Bombers Of U. S. Air Force Smash At Klagenfurt Industries

ALGIERS, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Heavy bombers of the 15th United States air force yesterday blasted the vital aircraft parts plants at Klagenfurt in southern Austria, headquarters of Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson announced today.

The assault was the second by four-engine American bombers on the factories producing parts for Nazi Focke-Wulf planes.

Heavy aircraft also smashed at Aviano and Udine in northern Italy in the campaign to knock out Nazi-held airfields. Direct hits were scored on landing areas and German barracks.

Light bombers attacked San Benedetto. Allied fighters maintained continuous patrols over the beachhead south of Rome to support additional landings.

The headquarters communiqué also revealed that Mediterranean air force craft blasted airfields in southern France on the night of Jan. 28-29.

Yesterday allied craft flew over 200 sorties and downed 18 Nazi planes for a loss of only four of their own.

Chinese Troops Drive 100 Miles Inside Burma

NEW DELHI, Feb. 1.—(INS)—American-trained Chinese troops now have penetrated more than 100 miles inside Jap-held Burma, Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell revealed today.

The American commander of Yank troops in the China-India-Burma theater who is Deputy Commander to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek declared that his troops are "only just starting."

The Japanese are opposing the drive with ferocious and tenacious resistance. Few prisoners have been taken, he pointed out.

Black Record Of Japan Revealed

Charged With Violation Of Every Humane Rule In Treatment Of War Prisoners

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Japan stood accused by the United States government today of violating every humane rule of international law in connection with the treatment of American war prisoners and civilian internees.

Murder, torture, starvation, abuse, neglect and general mistreatment stood out in a horror list of Japanese misdeeds against captive Americans made public by the state department.

Black Record

The black record of Japanese brutality was in the form of a list of diplomatic protests which the American government has made to Tokyo since January 1942 concerning Japan's failure to abide by the Geneva war prisoners convention.

Shortly before the list was made public Sen. Chavez (D-N.Mex.) took the Senate floor to demand that the United States send more aid to Gen. Douglas MacArthur so he could "avenge the horrors suffered by captured Americans."

In a vain effort to shame the Japanese government into honoring its solemn obligation to live up to the Geneva convention, the state department lodged a total of 42 separate protests carrying almost 100 specific charges during the past 24 months. The protests were made through the Swiss government, which represents American interests in Japan.

Accusing Witness

Although the protests appear to have had little effect on the Japanese mistreatment of American war prisoners and civilian internees, the list will stand as an accusing witness against Japan when the time comes for the Allies to consider the final peace terms to be imposed on that country.

The list revealed that many incidents involving barbaric mistreatment of prisoners were reported.

Sharp Revision Of Relations With Axis Expected In Spain

LONDON, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Neutral diplomats in Madrid were reported today to be expecting a sharp revision of Spanish relations with the Axis when Generalissimo Francisco Franco realizes the Allies mean business in their warnings against "neutrality" beneficial to Germany.

The London Daily Express in a dispatch from Tangier said a new Spanish circular reported that official Spanish circles were dazed by the turn of events when the United States decided to suspend oil supplies to Spain until the Iberian nation ceases aid to Hitler. The Madrid foreign office was "in confusion," said the diplomat on his arrival from the Spanish capital.

The publication pointed to the hitherto undisclosed fact that Spain already has acceded to a British request that all Germans be made to quit Algeria, near Gibraltar.

Meanwhile, American oil experts estimated that Spanish stocks of petroleum would last approximately eight weeks after which four-fifths of Spain's industrial activities would have to halt unless the Allied shipments resume.

U-BOAT WARFARE DISAPPOINTING

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 1.—(INS)—A frank admission that Germany's U-boat warfare during 1943 was "disappointing" to the Reich was made today by Admiral Luttwow, one of that nation's leading naval commentators, in a lecture at Helsinki.

Dispatches from the Finnish capital quoted Luttwow as admitting that the Allies had developed highly efficient weapons for both locating and combating German submarines. He asserted, however, that counter-measures have been worked out which "will show their effectiveness in the future."

Sgt. John McIntosh Wounded In Action

Sgt. John C. McIntosh, 22, has received the Purple Heart decoration for having been wounded in action in Italy according to word received from the war department by his parents Mr. and Mrs. George McIntosh, of 410 Garfield avenue, this city and Harrisburg.

Notice of the award of the Purple Heart to their son was the first Sgt. McIntosh's parents had heard of his having been wounded. The extent of his injury is not known. He has been removed to a hospital in North Africa.

Sgt. McIntosh was called into service June 18, 1942, and went overseas March 23, 1943.

Stationed at first in North Africa, he later took part in the invasion of Sicily and afterwards in the invasion of Italy.

The assault was carried out off the Yugoslav coast between Sibenik and Split on Saturday night.

Broadcasts From Japan Indicate Commando-Type Raids In Progress

REVEAL ATTACKS ON WAKE ISLAND

By CLINTON GREEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 1.—The United States offensive to blast the Japs from island strongholds in the South Central Pacific was widened in scope today and broadcasts from Tokyo reported that landing parties are engaged in commando-type raids in the Marshall group.

Headquarters of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced that powerful American air squadrons blasted principal points in the Marshalls with seven new raids and also disclosed that the fortified former American island of Wake to the north had been subjected to air assault.

No New Details

The brief communiques by the commando-chief of the U. S. Pacific fleet gave no new details on the action of warships which accompanied strong carrier task forces into Marshall island waters to add the weight of their shells to the aerial bombardment.

There was no information at Pearl Harbor that any American troops had been put ashore on Tokyo said U. S. forces were raiding the islands.

Powerful enemy troops are raiding the Marshalls, said the terse Nippon broadcast which indicated that landing operations may be under way.

The Tokyo broadcast said that Japanese forces are counter-attacking.

"A superior enemy force has been raiding the Marshall Islands group," a Tokyo broadcast recorded by the U. S. foreign broadcast intelligence service said. This account said that details of the fighting are "not known to us at this time."

A later broadcast, the OWI reported, said that army and navy (Continued On Page Ten)

Berlin Fires Are Still Burning

Germans Still Seeking To Quell Huge Blazes Started By Air Raids

By STEN HEDMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 1.—The crippling effect of Berlin's continued air raids on the city was indicated today by the further suspension of telephonic communication between the Nazi capital and Stockholm at 8 o'clock last night.

So severe was the Sunday night block-buster assault that Swedish correspondents in Berlin were not permitted to tell anything about the raid when telephone service was restored temporarily after a lapse of 14 hours.

Flames Still Rage

It was learned by way of Copenhagen, however, that flames in the Sunday night assault still raged in the German capital. Between 50 and 60 fires were reported blazing over a 15-mile area of built-up industrial districts of south-central Berlin.

Out of town fire brigades were reported rushed to the capital and many firemen collapsed from exhaustion after combating the flames.

Latest estimates on casualties said 16,000 persons were killed in the last two raids.

Members of the Nazi party and the German labor front who had planned a parade in Berlin Sunday to celebrate the 11th anniversary of the accession of the National Socialists to power had to cancel the program and help clear away debris.

Seek To Keep Up Morale

The Berlin correspondent of the Dagens Nyheter managed to get through one dispatch in which he said it was evident that the shattering of the nerves of the German people will be the decisive factor in cracking the home front and not the devastation wrought by the bombs.

Previous to the last assault it was estimated that virtually no block in the city remained entirely unscathed. Fires are so big and numerous that it often takes days to put them out.

Efforts to compensate the weary populace include the distribution of extra rations of cigarettes, coffee, butter, meat and bread.

The latest raid on Frankfurt was said to have left the whole city dark when the main power station was blasted. The death toll there was estimated at 4,600.

Gratifying as the totals shown today there is still a world of work to do in the smaller bonds. Individuals can hardly take a lot of pride in a bond campaign that goes over if the individual bond sales are not up to quota and that are far from it this far.

In short, the bond total today is something to cheer about but only long enough to get a second wind and then tackle the job a little harder.

Castle to become the manager of the new steel mill erected here by the Shamango Valley Steel Company later the New Castle Works of the Carnegie Steel Company.

From New Castle he went to South Sharon (Farrell) to manage the steel mill there and still later went with Jones and Laughlin, building the Allegheny mills and managing them for a time.

In 1924 he came back to New Castle to take over the management of the Pennsylvania Engineering Works and has remained at the helm since. He will remain as one of the board of directors and expects to be in New Castle from time to time but his active managerial days are over.

One Of Founders

In 1899 a group of New Castle men pooled their interests to form the Pennsylvania Engineering Works. The group consisted of Mr. Lewis, Edward King, William Patterson, Rufus Patterson, George Greer, Charles Montgomery, J. W. Reis and Edwin N. Ohi. Mr. Lewis is the only original director still living.

In his life Mr. Lewis has seen the steel industry emerge from the infant it was back in the early 80's to become the giant it is today and his part in the steel development has always been an active one.

William S. Wheeler, the new president has been identified with the Pennsylvania Engineering Works since he left the University of Wisconsin as a graduate engineer in 1905. Under his general management the plant has developed widely in the past years.

The retirement of William H. Lewis takes some of the color out of the industrial world. Known wherever steel men gather he has been a figure in the world of steel for over half a century.

GERMANS BRING REINFORCEMENTS TO ROME SECTOR

seizing had pulled out some of his force from the Gustav line to the south to counter the invasion.

The American units which moved into the outskirts of Cassino were locked in bitter fighting with the Nazis a half mile southwest of the town. The Germans were well dug in and resisting the Yank assaults fiercely.

Mostly British troops formed the column which surged along the road toward Albano and battered its way into the outskirts of Campoleone, 15 miles north of the Anzio bridgehead. This placed the Allied spearhead some 20 miles from Rome.

Naval Guns Aid

Allied naval guns supporting the army on shore bombarded enemy positions close to the front line, thus protecting the Anglo-American flank. The British cruiser Penelope, unleashed its six 6-inch rifles and bombarded the Pomina area.

Ideal weather enabled the Allies to make "excellent progress" from their west coast bridgehead, and the landing of troops and supplies continued.

Enemy air action was on a reduced scale, due to the heavy losses suffered during previous attempts to stem the Allied tide.

London's Reuters correspondent was quoted as reporting that Allied troops had cut the Rome-Capua railroad and were already one mile beyond the rail line.

On the main Fifth Army front, the Americans completed mopping up operations at Cassino and Monte Villa, north of Cassino, and also consolidated gains made in the high ground there. The Germans were resisting every inch of the way, and were paying a high price in obeying Hitler's orders to hold at all costs.

The drive by the Americans and Britons to extend their columns inland from the Anzio-Nettuno beachhead progressed steadily and enemy forces wherever engaged were pushed back.

RUSSIAN TROOPS BATTLING TO CROSS ESTONIAN BORDER

other reports from the Swedish capital, saying that while the Soviets stand virtually on the former border to Estonia other Red army units are driving toward Latvia. The neutral dispatch attributed to Berlin quarters the claim that massive Russian forces, paced by tanks and Stomovik dive-bombers, are driving toward the Latvian frontier between Nevel and Vitebsk.

Pursuing Retreating Germans

Pursuing the retreating Germans through southern forests and snow-covered marshlands, the Russians wiped out scattered groups of the "enemy" and crossed the Luga river at several points. The advance across the stream reached Luga, 37 miles northwest of the enemy bastion of Luga, which was threatened by two columns converging from the southeast and east.

These latter drives, based on captured Novgorod, continued forward despite strong enemy resistance. "Heavy losses" were inflicted on the Nazis, last night's midnight Soviet communiqué declared.

Equally heavy casualties were imposed on the Germans during the advance toward Luga. The Russians moving southward liberated Sivarsky, "broke the enemy's resistance" costing the Nazis heavily "in manpower and equipment."

The Russians who captured Sivarsky were revealed to have wiped out the German garrisons, which comprised four regiments and "other units." Later they "liquidated" the encircled defenders at Rozhnovskovo and Ostrov, where "hundreds of enemy corpses" were left littering the streets.

ACCEPTED FOR ARMY

Two more members of the city police department will soon be in military service. They were accepted for the service following an examination in Pittsburgh. They are Sergeant Gilmore Smith and Patrolman Jack Jones.

JAP REPORT ON ISLAND ATTACK

With a task force on a large scale. Earlier FBIIS monitors heard another Tokyo domestic broadcast that described the attacking force as "centering around aircraft carriers" and said that the enemy "first carried out air raids on those islands. The attack, said Tokyo, is the 'second phase' of the 'Gilbert Islands operation'."

The latter broadcast in referring to the "superior enemy force," assured Japanese audiences that "army and navy forces garrisoned on the islands have intercepted and are now engaged in fierce fighting."

The Japanese Domei agency transmitted a Spanish-language wireless dispatch to South America quoting "a well-informed observer" in Tokyo as saying that "attacks by the enemy in the area of the Marshalls group had been anticipated and the best imperial units were ready to destroy them whenever they came."

Ballet Russe Performance Notable Concert Guild Opening

New Castle got its first taste of sophisticated entertainment in a long time Monday night when the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo opened the winter season of the Metropolitan Concert Guild in The Cathedral. The crowd and its reaction to the ballet proved one thing definitely, that New Castle folks will turn out when the attraction is one of merit. The night marked the high spot of all the attractions. The Guild has been in town since it was organized in 1939. It established a standard from which the Guild will have difficulty in receding.

Monday night's program was divided into three episodes, the first a romantic reverie, "Les Sylphides," the second a modern adaptation of the "Red Poppy," and the third an earthy, American presentation, "The Counting at Burnt Ranch."

The three were entirely different one from the other. "Les Sylphides" is sheer fantasy, the dancing is pure ballet, and the work of the cast a delight to see. Like milkweed floss carried along by a breeze the dancers flitted across the stage, with Nathalie Krassovska, Ruthanna Boris and Dorothy Etheridge and Leon Danielian carrying the leads.

"The Red Poppy" is a tersely-drawn dramatization of Japan's aggression against the Chinese. Here were dance numbers that called for dramatic art as well as dancing skill and they had both. Standing out in a group of excellent artists were Alexandra Danilova in the part of Tai Hoa and Frederick Franklin as the Russian sailor.

The third episode "The Counting at Burnt Ranch" looked like something out of the current hit "Okla-homa" and indeed the relationship is not too vague for the same composer did both, Agnes de Mille. This was a tango dancing tale of the western sode and the usual Saturday night dance in the ranch house and from the standpoint of popular approval, perhaps this was the best of the three good episodes. Frederick Franklin and Vida Brown had the leads in this ballet, and how those nimble footed youngsters at their parts up. The flowers given Miss Brown at the close of the ballet were well earned.

About 1500 were in the audience, most of whom were there as season members of the Metropolitan Concert Guild. The evening was a signal success, a tribute to the taste of the talent committee of the guild and an artistic dish the crowd found much to its liking.

The second number of the guild's course will be on March 3 when Thomas L. Thomas, noted baritone, appears and the third will be April 15 when Luboshutz and Nemenoff, a piano duo, appear.

Says Change Of Presidents Would Not Hamper War

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—(INS)—

Louis Bromfield, author and farmer, today entered politics with the declaration that changing presidents this year would not affect the war effort.

In Pittsburgh to participate in an all-day rally by women to sell six million dollars in war bonds, Bromfield told reporters:

"That idea about changing horses in the middle of the stream is rubbish. Changing horses was the best thing England ever did after it entered the war."

"He referred to the change which saw Winston Churchill replace Prime Minister Clarence Chamberlain."

"We have the finest set of generals in the world," he continued.

"They would still be running the war no matter who is elected President in November. The only change would be on the home front, and that could only be for the better."

Bromfield predicted Wendell Willkie would not get the Republican nomination for the presidency, adding:

"The trouble with Willkie is he tries to be both Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt."

The Battle of Bunker Hill was fought on Breed's Hill, about 2000 feet away from Bunker Hill. The original orders, on June 16, 1775, were to seize and fortify Bunker Hill, but the Colonial officers, after consultation, decided to defend Breed's Hill. Through error, the battle of the seventeenth became known as the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Problem

GIVE CHILD SHARE OF CHORES

Because so many parents want their boy or girl to help at home, but are not successful in training them, I have written a special bulletin, "How To Teach Child To Help at Home." To be had for postage (three-cent stamp on a self-addressed envelope). It goes into the matter far more freely than space permits here. Just a few statements from it:

You probably wrote for this bulletin because you have a boy or girl from 8 to 18, who rarely or never helps you, and are worried that the child is not learning to assume responsibility. You may have charged him with lack of love for you or appreciation for all you have "done for him." No doubt he has grown accustomed to your lecturing and scolding. Talks of this nature should be given up if a favorable reaction is to be obtained. On the contrary, when your child chooses on his own account to do the smallest thing to help you, or reveals the slightest consideration for you, show your appreciation warmly. You can hope to build huge fortunes of co-operation on these voluntary mites. The older the child is, the less you are able to command him effectively. If you have cultivated desirable control over a younger child, from 6 to 10, you might be able to require that certain jobs be done at regular times, by enforcing effective penalties, such as sitting in a chair doing nothing for exactly 40 minutes for each failure. Make the obligation very clear just once also the penalty for delinquency. Then keep your word.

Young Child

Beginning with your first child, emphasize his doing for himself. He is able to do, cultivate self-care and self-reliance. Before assigning a required job, get into good working order, a schedule for his play periods and bedtime and sleeping habits. Don't talk act. Assign jobs very gradually. Begin with just one. Add no other until this one is done regularly for telling him when to do it, or until he does it. Let each job added be something he can do well, and be done regularly each day without exception. Don't, as a rule, pay him for the extra jobs about the home, or make his allowance dependent thereon. (My bulletin on allowances may be had for postage in the usual way.)

Industrial Tasks

In a family of several children, let each child of sufficient age and ability have his own tasks. Don't let their jobs overlap, or set two on the same job at the same time. Let 10-year-old Jimmy wash the dishes tonight and Rebecca, 12, tomorrow night, and mark it on the calendar so there will be no doubt. No harm, of course, if they choose to trade turns, or even to do the dishes together.

If your husband supposes a boy should not wash dishes or do other household jobs, his cooperation will have to be won before you can get very far with your son.

Solving Parent Problems

Q How many hours of sleep should a child eight years old have?
A. At least 11 hours. If excitable or nervous, he should have more, and, if possible, a short nap by day. My chart showing desirable hours of sleep at different ages, may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

He noticed that his neighbors' window frames of paint were bare. The roofs were worn in places and in need of much repair. And walking home at sundown with a shabbiness about him which he knew could be improved.

Should he talk to Jim about it? Should he mention it to Joe? Off he wandered, trudging homeward. Can it be they do not know? What so plainly is apparent? Do they fail their shape to see? If he talked to them about it would they better try to be?

Then one evening he decided that his roof was needing care. And his window frames and doorways were of paint extremely bare. So he went to work upon them; put his place in order trim. And the neighbors started painting without any word from him.

First the house next door was bettered; then the one across the way. Then the one upon the corner; none was shabby left to stay. Till the street entire was bettered. Need the moral here be told? Men will need a good example, when to lectures they are cold. (Copyright, 1944, Edgar A. Guest)

HOMINY

Hominy provides a lot of nutrition. One-third of a cup makes about 200 calories. It also has some vitamins and minerals. It contains about the same amount of protein as bread does, but is much richer in starch. Our appetites seem pretty finicky. They seem to need a change occasionally. If we eat the same things all the time we get tired of them and we do not eat enough. Hominy should be served with a green or yellow vegetable to make up for its lack of certain vitamins.

A friend of mine said to me: "Why don't you write funny stuff? People want to laugh. You are always so serious."

"But I'm no humorist," I replied. "Funny stuff just isn't up my alley."

"Not," he said, "anybody can write humor, if he knows the formula."

So, to prove his point, he presented me with a Dictionary of Humor. It was a book of 100 pages.

"Just read this thing and follow its formula and, in no time, you'll be a comedian. That's what all the funny people on the stage, in radio and the newspapers do."

Wonderful, I thought, I'll be a comedian and make lots of money.

So, I started to study my dictionary. 3540 jokes in it—every one guaranteed to make you laugh. All classified and indexed from "Absentmindedness" and "Accent" to "Zodiac" and "Zoo."

The forward tells exactly how to make people laugh. So I am going to try it on you.

If you don't start to laugh about five or six lines from here, you either have no sense of humor, or I'm a very poor student (or may be the book's no good).

Get ready for the laugh!

Here's joke No. 3301 under the heading "BILLS":
Judge: Haven't I seen you before?

Speeder: Maybe—so many men owe me money, I can't remember their faces.

No good: All right, let's try it again.

The heading is "LOVE." Joke No. 2622:
"Would you love me just the same if my father had lost all his money, John?"

He hasn't lost it, has he?

No.

Of course, I would, you silly girl.

By this time you are supposed to be in convulsions of laughter. But, if by any chance the formula hasn't worked, my dictionary at the end of the chapter on "LOVE" refers me to the "related subjects" of: Face, Accidents, Disease, Female, Mind, Work, Advice, Honesty, Asam and Eve, Bachelor and Marriage.

You can figure that out yourself.

If you want to be a humorist and think this book will do you any good, I'll be glad to send you the exact title and the name of the publisher.

As for myself, I still think humor is something that you either have or haven't.

And there is nothing quite so awful as a person who isn't funny and tries to be.

I know a fellow who has his hearers howling with laughter when he tells a joke.

Then I tell that same joke to my friends and there's dead silence and not a smile.

So if you are by nature serious, for heaven's sake, don't try to be a clown.

Sugar doesn't go with spinach.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
NEW YORK—Mayor F. H. La Guardia: "It is the determination of the American people to hold Emperor Hirohito and everyone connected with the Japanese government responsible for the mass murder of American soldiers held as war prisoners. If Hirohito is a gentleman let him in keeping with the customs of his country, commit harikari to prove it."

BRIDGEPORT Conn.—Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., in a war bond appeal: "Tomorrow, and for as many tomorrows as there shall be in this war, we shall continue to hear of further murderous crimes committed by the Axis, and that is why we must limit these tomorrows. The Japanese and the Japanese hope, by their frightfulness, to scare us into quitting. Our answer to that is the job being done day in and day out by Mr. and Mrs. America."

WASHINGTON—Sen. H. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.): "There is a suspicion on the part of many that our unrealistic policy has resulted in failure to do everything we could for the Pacific front and China. We have tolerated many unjustifiable strikes which have delayed production of weapons that might have been used to rescue our prisoners in Japanese hands. Let's have an end to this. We can't wait years as some have warned we must, to rescue our heroes of the Pacific."

Taft Still Seen As Possible Candidate
Army Is Firm About War News Blackouts
Skip Bombing Is Held Valuable By Navy

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—As the 1944 presidential race approaches, political observers are watching Senator Bob Taft, the Ohio Republican—and watching closely. They recall Taft lost the nomination to Wendell Willkie in Philadelphia in 1940, but the sands of Republican sentiment have shifted. Willkie appears to have little chance of more being the GOP standard bearer.

Apparently out in front in the GOP political scramble is Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York state. Dewey, out of New York, that in event of a deadlock at the Republican Chicago convention, Taft may develop into the fair-haired candidate although he has consistently disavowed any ambition to run for president this year.

In this respect he closely follows Dewey's stand. The New York governor has said publicly he will finish out his governorship before tackling a presidential campaign. Taft, with a favorable record in the United States senate, probably would be highly acceptable to the rank and file of the Republicans.

Meanwhile, Ohio's Governor John Bricker with a background of a sound middle-class conservative, has been assured of Taft's support. Bricker at the present time appears to have not too bright a chance of getting the nomination.

The war department has tossed a heavy-handed monkey wrench into the national capital's already-muddled news situation.

Despite public resentment over the army's handling of the Bari ship bombings in Italy, the Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., slapping incident in Sicily and other minor items, the war department still holds firmly to the view that it has a "vested interest" in the way war news is presented.

This point of view is expressed in an army guide issued to information officers, orientation course instructors and other personnel of officials. The guide specifically states that "in time of war the armed forces are creators of news and have therefore a vested interest in the way it is reported and edited" by its press and publication offices.

With this statement, some here in Washington foresee continued army-censored war news blackouts, lack of an over-all government policy on the subject of war news and the possible emancipation of the Office of War Information as the primary disseminator of headline news during the coming allied offensive in Europe and the Pacific.

In the background, capital quarters also see OWI Chief Elmer Davis waging a valiant, but futile, battle to channel all war news through a single government agency.

Davis has for many months pleaded his cause with President Roosevelt, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, Secretary of the Cordell Hull and other department heads—but apparently to no avail.

Dive bombing is not on the way out as some airmen believed following the Bismarck sea victory over the Japanese in which American army pilots used skip-bombing tactics so successfully they wiped out an enemy armada of 12 ships.

The navy and marine corps are showing no tendency to scrap the dive and glide bomb techniques and, in fact, these two branches of the service are improving this method of destruction.

Navy airmen do not minimize the value of skip-bombing against some types of vessels—cargo ships and small vessels—and they credit the army air corps for developing this type of attack.

However, pilots returning from the south and southwest Pacific will tell you that there is nothing more effective or more terrifying to the enemy than mass attacks by formations of dive and glide bombers.

The difference between the two is that dive bombers roar down almost vertically against the target, whereas glide bombers pull out, glide and glide bomb technique and, in fact, these two branches of the service are improving this method of destruction.

Wallace And Rayburn

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. ABOUT the only things that have not been settled now about the coming Democratic convention are (1) who will be Mr. Roosevelt's running mate and (2) how formidable will be the protest vote against the fourth term. There, of course, remain details, such as who will make the nominating and keynote speeches and what will be in the platform.

BUT THESE including the platform, are relatively trivial. Mr. Roosevelt is always his own platform. Early in his first term he gave convincing evidence of how lightly he holds the written pledges and his own pre-election promises. So that it is the literal truth to say that now the only major matters still uncertain are the two listed above. As to the first, one thing is sure—the convention action will be as harmonious as the committee action on the fourth-term resolution. On the latter, though there were anti-fourth-term members present, there was no roll call and no protesting voice was raised. It will be different in the convention.

NOT THAT anyone thinks the Roosevelt nomination can be prevented. But there will be a protest. The question is how strong will it be. Perhaps, the power of the Administration will be so great and the fulcrum of the opposition so weak that 1940 will be repeated. In that convention, Virginia was the State which stuck to the declined to join the victorious anti-Roosevelt parade around the hall. Virginia will do exactly that again and she will not be quite so lonely this time. Certainly there will be one or two other States from the South—and a scattering vote of anti-fourth-term irreconcilables from other sections. Some think the total may be close to 200 of their 1,000-odd delegates, others that on the final ballot all but a handful will surrender. No one can tell about that.

AS TO the Roosevelt running mate, it seems a contest now between Speaker Rayburn and Vice-President Wallace. At least it is called a contest, though actually it isn't one. The fact being that the outcome depends entirely upon which Mr. Roosevelt prefers. If the President should become genuinely neutral, unquestionably Mr. Rayburn would win. For one thing he is far more popular with party leaders than Mr. Wallace. For another, they regard him as a more balanced and sensible man for another thing, consider him more of a Democrat and more of a conservative.

AND THIS convention will be conservative at heart because the country has turned in that direction. Mr. Roosevelt will be re-nominated, but that is because of the war, the weight of the huge Federal machine and the President's machine and (Continued On Next Page)

Urges Standardized Training For Police Throughout Nation

Recommendation Is Made At Police Chiefs Conference At Hershey, Pa.

By TONY ZECCA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HERSHEY, Pa., Feb. 1.—Standardized training for all policemen "from the smallest hamlet to the largest metropolis" was proposed Monday at a meeting of police chiefs and their staffs from 13 eastern states at Hershey as a means of combatting postwar problems.

The proposal was urged by Commissioner Edward J. Hickey, of the Connecticut State Police, in his address as general chairman of the two-day meeting of the northeastern state and provincial section of the International Association of Police Chiefs.

"Unless we are prepared to take up our responsibilities that will follow in the postwar period, you might just as well quit the police business," he told the assembled delegates.

The Connecticut state police chief suggested that a uniform system of training for all police officers be established by each state and that it conform as closely as possible with those set up by other states. Standardized methods of training promulgated by state boards of education, would be carried out by the communities, with schools and universities employed to train police officers in the latest methods of crime prevention.

"If the police did nothing else but train police officers during the next year, they would still be doing a great public service," Hickey asserted. "It is a police problem that must be faced."

Superintendent Edward J. Kelly of the Rhode Island State Police outlined a 12-point code of ethics for state policemen, including the maintenance and promotion of public confidence in law enforcement. He suggested that a policeman should not compromise his independence by accepting public reward for his services in excess of his normal compensation and that he should not engage in any political activity except to exercise his right of suffrage.

Loss of voice is sometimes a form of neurotic escape from environmental unhappiness.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

the President's own desire for another term. It does not alter the fact that there is a popular revolt against New Deal radicalism in domestic affairs, as shown by the series of unbroken Republican successes in State and district elections since 1942—a revolt which seems to insure a Republican House and even threatens Democratic Senate control.

ALL THIS tends to make the normal, sturdy, conservative Mr. Rayburn seem a better Vice-Presidential possibility than the idealistic, star-gazing Mr. Wallace, who, despite the President's known wish to drop the New Deal name and subordinate New Dealism in the coming campaign, still extols it to the skies and holds out the hope—or threat—of a greater New Deal for the future. There is also the fact that Mr. Wallace has somewhat overtalked himself and been greatly overpraised by the radical press. Some of his most fervent speeches have fallen flat and a few of his most scorching attacks have reacted against him.

IN BRIEF, Mr. Wallace has lost ground in the last two years, though he is earnestly campaigning for a renomination. For a while, he was regarded as Mr. Roosevelt's choice for his successor by those who failed to understand that Mr. Roosevelt has but one choice for his successor: that is Mr. Roosevelt. That seems strange now but it is so. Nevertheless, Mr. Wallace has one big advantage over Mr. Rayburn. He already has the job. Traditionally, he is entitled to the nomination if the President is re-nominated. No instance can be recalled in which a renominated President deliberately discarded a Vice-President anxious to serve again.

IN THE past it has been just one of those things which could not be done. In the case of Mr. Wallace there is his complete loyalty to the President, personally and politically, as an additional reason for not ditching him. Yet another reason is that it would be an openly cruel and selfish thing. Still, Mr. Roosevelt loves to break traditions and has broken many without personal damage. He may adopt the neutral position in which case Mr. Rayburn will beat Mr. Wallace in the convention, just as he would have beaten him four years ago. Or the President may brush both men aside and nominate a third. This would break two loyal, loving hearts, but it probably could be done with impunity.

Children Can't Sell Religious Tracts On Streets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The supreme court in a 5 to 4 decision Monday held constitutional a Massachusetts law prohibiting children from selling newspapers or magazines on the streets insofar as it was applied to one selling religious literature.

The case was appealed by Sarah Prince, member of Jehovah's witnesses, who was fined $10 on a charge of giving Betty Simmons, nine years old, magazines to sell in the city of Brockton.

The Massachusetts law prohibits children between 12 and 18 from selling newspapers or other merchandise on the streets.

The case involved another of many conflicts between Jehovah's witnesses and authorities over the sale of religious tracts on the streets. Justice Rutledge, who wrote the majority opinion said there is a difference between authority of the state over adults and over children. The court previously had held invalid an ordinance prohibiting an adult from selling the same sort of religious literature.

Justices Murphy, Jackson, Roberts and Frankfurter dissented.

Army Ordnance Now Using Much Synthetic Rubber

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The U. S. Army Ordnance Department has made an overall conversion from natural to synthetic rubber, covering more than 50 percent of its rubber requirements and effecting a saving of more than 10,000 tons of natural rubber a month.

Three test fleets of ordnance cars, trucks, half-track vehicles and tanks are now averaging 43,150 miles per day to gain data that will enable experts to build quality synthetic rubber equipment for battle field use.

Mechanical goods items for military use, such as those procured by the Philadelphia Ordnance District, are more than 80 percent converted to synthetic rubber and work is being continued to make this conversion 100 percent.

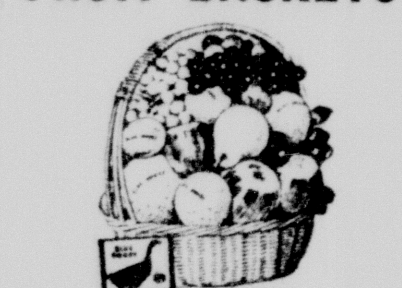

Provides Huge Waste Paper Supply Monthly

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Quartermaster depot contributes an average of 267 tons of waste paper a month to the waste paper salvage drive selling approximately $7,100 worth to dealers.

More than 10,000 containers, which hold garments shipped to the depot, are sold to dealers with the proviso that they be resold to small business firms holding government contracts.

Employees are encouraged to deposit newspapers in receptacles at the gate instead of leaving them in public transportation vehicles on their way to work. The waste paper is collected in bags and loaded on dealers' trucks every day without being sorted.

Capt. Andreassen Here Five Years Anniversary Today Is Being Observed By Dinner At Citadel

CAPT. CARL ANDREASEN

Tribute is being paid to the splendid work done here during the past five years by Capt. and Mrs. Carl Andreassen, of the Salvation Army, who are starting on their sixth year of service in New Castle today. This evening a dinner is being given in the Citadel by the soldiers of the army to commemorate this event.

Capt. Andreassen came to New Castle on February 1, 1939, from Carnegie, Pa., and during his stay here has seen the work of the Army grow from the humble quarters in rooms on Water street, to the Citadel now occupied by the Army on North Jefferson street, which is owned by them, and on which the mortgage will be paid this spring.

Since the advent of the war, Capt. Andreassen has been active in looking after the needs of those departing for service and the men and their families afterwards. Each week, around 1,300 letters are sent out to the men in service who have requested to be placed on the mailing list.

Jack M. Dunlap, who was one of the charter members on the Advisory board, and who is retiring as chairman of the board, with the incoming chairman, John B. Shaw, with their wives, will be present at the dinner this evening.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

rate today in the United States is the highest in the civilized world, as ever been known, except in the Roman Empire.

There are published in the cities of California, newspapers devoted entirely to legal matters, which are recorded every day among other things, the title of every suit brought in the Courts of the County in which the paper is published, giving the names of the parties in each suit and the cause pleaded in each case. In San Diego thirty years ago, there might have been two or three divorce actions prosecuted in the course of a month. Today counting up the divorce actions commenced in San Diego, for the month of December, 1943, I find that there was an average of about twenty divorce actions commenced each day during the month of December—about five hundred in all, and very few of these cases will be contested. A great many of them originated from a hasty marriage entered into by a man in the Armed Services, either in the Navy, the Army or the Marines with a girl that the man had met one day and married three or four days later, and after a few days, weeks or maybe a month or two one or the other is seeking a divorce.

Often in many of these marriages the husband is ordered to active service overseas. The wife is allowed by the government the regular allotment made in such cases and the result will probably be that the surviving husband, returning after the war, will be looking for a divorce and the divorce courts will be busier than ever.

A Chicago Judge commenting on this situation and speaking for the State of Illinois said that desertion and cruelty were the most common charges in divorce cases in Illinois where "perjury runs higher in divorce courts than in any other."

After recalling the promotion of free love and companionate marriage thirty years ago when one was expected "to discard his mate like a new pair of shoes that squeaked" the Judge expressed confidence that "Christian marriage will live because nothing better has ever been proposed and never will be."

Many Conveniences In Merchant Ships For Crew Members

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 1.—(INS)—Men who go down to sea in merchant ships will live comfortably. If they get out one of those new tankers turned out by the Sun Shipbuilding company.

In the new tankers, two crewmen share a stateroom equipped with steel pipe bunks, a small wall desk with drawer, an ample wardrobe and a leather-cushioned settee. Crew rooms have outlets for radios. A laundry is equipped with washers and ironers, while galleys have been improved with electric stoves, bake ovens, coffee urns and steam tables.

AID FOR INDIA
WASHINGTON, (INS)—The American Red Cross is about to ship 500,000 tons of evaporated milk and 2,000,000 vitamin tablets for famine victims in India. Officials announced today. The milk will be the equivalent of one million quarts and vitamin tablets will take care of 10,000 children for three months, a statement declared.

Chestnut Trees Relic Of Past

READING, Pa., Feb. 1.—(INS)—The "spreading chestnut tree" that inspired Longfellow to pen his immortal lines has now joined the village smithy as a mere relic of the past.

The blight of 1912 to 1914 wrought such havoc among the noble, nut-bearing trees that only the trunks of the giants of another day can now be seen.

In Berks county, famous 40 years ago for its small delicious chestnuts, all effects to resuscitate the tree's growth have failed. Charles S. Adams, county farm agent, said recently that as soon as a tree reaches bearing age at about four to five years, it is immediately hit by the blight, a virus disease for which no cure has been found.

The absence of chestnuts from the stuffing in holiday dinners is not the only result of the shortage. Chestnut wood formerly was used extensively for fence building in the county.

Ten firms in Erie expect to can 22,500,000 pounds of beef before next March for the United Kingdom.

Mother, This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Wonderful

Saves Real Money. No Cooking. Quick Results.

To get the most surprising relief from coughs due to colds, you can easily prepare a medicine, right in your own kitchen. It's very easy—solved. Or you can use corn syrup, or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, and pour it into a pint bottle. Then add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of really splendid cough syrup—about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and lasts a long time.

And for real, quick relief, it can't be beaten. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Cardigan Style Suits in all pure wool Shetlands. Sizes 10 to 20.

Developments In Chicago Murder Mystery Hinted

Two Women and Man Are Under Intensive Secret Grilling By Detectives

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The first real "break" in the Drake Hotel murder of Mrs. Adele Born Williams—possibly the solution—appeared in the making at the scientific crime detection laboratory of the detective bureau today.

Under intensive grilling were two women and a man, about whom authorities would divulge nothing save that one woman was "middle aged."

The woman sought for fatally wounding Mrs. Williams, wife of Frank Starr Williams, state department attaché in Washington, in her room at the Drake the evening of Jan. 19 has been described as between 45 and 50 years old.

While reports from the closely guarded crime laboratory were meager, the roster of officials there left no doubt of the importance of the new developments.

Participating were Detective Chief John L. Sullivan, Coroner A. L. Brodie, Supervising Capt. John Ryan, Capt. Frank Reynolds, in whose district the murder was committed, First Assistant State Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley, and Assistant State's Attorney Joseph A. Pope.

Also present were several persons whose identity was such a closely guarded secret that they were spirited into the detective bureau through a rear door and carefully secluded in the twelfth floor crime laboratory.

The developments, marking the 13th day of intensive investigation into the crime, came soon after police asserted that Stanley Fahey, a former employee at the Drake, had nothing to do with the case.

GIRL CHARMS LONELY YANKS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)—Soldiers who haven't seen a woman in months will go through hell or sub-zero weather to get a look at an American girl.

Sgt. Leon Schnall, 24, of Brooklyn, N. Y., (350 Vermont St.) can tell you about that. Along with other servicemen, he stood for an hour in bitterly cold weather for a chance to admire a USO entertainer at an Army Air Forces base in Greenland.

The girl? Her name was Mary Elliot. Schnall related today at AAF Redirection Station No. 1, where he will receive a new assignment. "She came up with Andy Devine to put on a show for us. Andy was good, but you should have seen the reaction when Mary walked out on the stage."

"At first we just stared. Then we began to hoot and howl. It was wonderful, being able to look at a girl again. We hadn't seen one in more than a year."

"It must have been embarrassing for Mary, but she came back for encore after encore. And the soldiers who couldn't crowd into the GI theater kept waiting in the cold outside for their chance to look, and incidentally, to watch the show."

Schnall served as a photographer in the Arctic region and as part of his job ran a motion picture projector.

"Movies were a favorite recreation of the soldiers," he said. "I often traveled to isolated posts to show pictures for ten hours running without repeating a single one. The men who didn't have anything else to do stayed through the entire performance and everybody got a chance to see at least one movie."

The yellow race is multiplying five or six times as fast as the white, according to a world survey of population growth.

Allied Bombers Hammer Europe

Sustained Allied Air Action Across Channel Is Reported Today

AMERICANS MAKE DAYLIGHT ATTACKS

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Sustained Allied air action across the English Channel during the night was reported by coastal observers today.

German radio transmitters went silent twice during the night but the main units of the Royal Air Force failed to carry out any major assault.

The closing down of the Nazi radio and a new suspension of telephone communications with Stockholm apparently resulted from German fears of a fresh attack on Berlin and constituted a precautionary measure.

Berlin radios left the air twice during the night, once for a period of 20 minutes and later for 90 minutes, and telephone communication between the German capital and Stockholm was disrupted.

Raiders Continue

The cycle of devastating raids on the continent which began last Thursday continued in daylight yesterday with bombers and fighters of the Eighth United States Air Force carrying out the heaviest attack in the battered Pas de Calais region of France.

Four-motored Liberators, escorted by Thunderbolts, hit military targets in the Pas de Calais area. They met no Nazi fighter opposition.

Other Thunderbolts, supported by Lightnings, bombed the Nazi airfield at Gilzeijen, Holland. Here the enemy sent up strong interceptor forces and 13 Nazi planes were destroyed in combat.

Royal Air Force fighters meantime carried out offensive patrols over northern and western France. Nine fighters failed to return.

American air force fighters also carried out offensive sweeps and six of these were listed as missing. The bag of 13 Nazi planes by the Thunderbolts and Lightnings brought to 100 the total of enemy ships destroyed by these craft in three days.

The authoritative British Press Association said today while it probably some 28,000 American tons of bombs have been dropped on Berlin since November 18, when the R.A.F. started its campaign to destroy the German capital.

The Daily Express said it believed the offensive against Berlin which it termed the greatest air battle of all time was almost won. Berlin, said this newspaper, may soon cease to be the capital of Germany in anything but name. Reports reaching London stated that additional important government departments were evacuating Berlin and moving to Breslau.

The Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dablaget, quoting a report from the free Danish press service, said Nazi occupational authorities closed the well-known Ambassador restaurant in Odense for three days because Danish patrons "threatened" German soldiers dining there.

The "threat," according to the report relayed by OWI, was based on the action of some Danes who "clenched their fists and pointed them, with their forefingers imitating the firing of revolvers."

POINTING BRINGS NAZI PENALTIES

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Not that the Nazis are etiquette-conscious, but it definitely is not good practice to point in Denmark today.

The Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dablaget, quoting a report from the free Danish press service, said Nazi occupational authorities closed the well-known Ambassador restaurant in Odense for three days because Danish patrons "threatened" German soldiers dining there.

The "threat," according to the report relayed by OWI, was based on the action of some Danes who "clenched their fists and pointed them, with their forefingers imitating the firing of revolvers."

Set $100,000 Goal For War Bonds In Present Campaign

United Engineering Co. Employees Seek Large Total Above Payroll Deductions

Setting a goal of $100,000 above their payroll deductions for war bonds, employees of the United Engineering and Foundry company held a bond meeting in the plant Monday afternoon with several speakers delivering sales talks.

The International Association of Machinists had a representative present, as did the International Molders and Foundry Workers Union of America. Others were the treasury representative of the company and the Life Underwriters of New Castle who are backing the payroll deduction plan of bond sales.

United Engineering employees have been purchasing bonds through the payroll deduction plan and the total thus far is an impressive one. But to the total already amassed they will endeavor to add $100,000 for the present campaign.

Neshannock Twp. Plans Honor Roll

Arrangements Being Made To Honor Men And Women In Armed Service

At a meeting held recently at the Walmo school residents of Neshannock township organized and started plans for the erection of an honor roll for the service men and women of the township.

A canvass is now under way to secure funds and also to secure a complete list of all service men and women.

William Tanney, phone 3925, is in charge of this survey and should be contacted if anyone is missed in the house to house canvass. There was some discussion as to the size and type of honor roll desired and also its location. The size of the roll will be determined after the survey is completed and an approximate roll of 400 is expected.

The election of officers resulted as follows: president, John R. Frazer; vice-president, Marvin Dismore; secretary, Mrs. Fred Moore; and treasurer, William Tanney.

Members of the building committee are Mrs. Kenneth Boalick, Mrs. Carl Hoch, Sam Mooney, Riley Bolland and John Untch.

War Department Picture Tonight

You can collect your dividend on your bond purchases tonight in the senior high school at 8:15. Or you can attend the affair even if you haven't purchased a bond. Either way, it won't cost anybody a cent tonight to see the grim war department picture, "The War Department Presents" which is being shown in the high school.

There is no admission, no tickets, no bond sales, no bond appeals, the picture will be shown free. For forty-eight minutes you will see such pictures as the capture of Benito Mussolini, shots of battle action in the Atlantic and Pacific theatres of war, and films captured from the Germans and Japanese.

The picture is well worth seeing and the projection machine starts to roll at eight fifteen. Here is a factual record of what is going on today in the various theatres of war. Try and see it.

Soviet Newspaper In Vatican Attack

LONDON, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The official Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, according to the Moscow radio, today published an attack on the Vatican for what was termed its pro-Fascist attitude.

The Moscow broadcast summarizing the Izvestia editorial, as heard by Reuters news agency, said that "the servility of the Vatican towards Fascism has not been confined to Italy. The Vatican has approved many Fascist acts of aggression."

O'Mahoney May Succeed Guffey On Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Sen. O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., it was learned today, has been offered the position of chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee to succeed Sen. Guffey (D) Pa. Announcement of O'Mahoney's acceptance is expected to be made soon by Democratic Senate Leader Barkley.

O'Mahoney, whose term of office does not expire until 1946, is expected to seek to heal a breach between northern and southern senate Democrats which has been highlighted by a feud between Sen. Byrd (D) Va., and Guffey.

Mystified over an assertion by Guffey that he had been "removed" as committee chairman instead of resigning, Barkley was understood to be preparing to make public correspondence between him and the Pennsylvania senator.

Air-Wacs, Cadets Get Free Air Rides

C.A.P. Fliers Will Take Prospective Candidates Up At Airport Tomorrow

Prospective Air-WACS, Aviation Cadets, and all 17-year old youths interested in Aviation Cadet Training, are invited to take an air ride free, tomorrow, at the local Airport C. A. P. Fliers will be on hand from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., weather permitting to take these prospective candidates up.

Those under 21 years of age must have their parents consent on forms which are available at the Army recruiting station, or nearest high school.

Women who have already enlisted as Air-WACS will be included in the offer if it is stated.

WAR CASUALTIES NOW TOTAL 146,186

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The number of American casualties in World War II stood at 146,186 today, exchange of the thousands of war prisoners starved shot or tortured to death in the Philippines.

The OWI listed 33,153 members of the armed forces as dead, 49,518 wounded, 33,617 missing and 29,898 prisoners of war. Of the latter, 1,933 had been reported by the enemy as having died in prison camps, mostly in Japanese-occupied territory. The army's new revelations of the Japanese atrocities, OWI said, make this number substantially higher.

Army casualties, as of January 7, totaled 109,434, of whom 17,480 were killed, 41,533 wounded, 24,806 missing and 25,615 prisoners of war.

Navy casualties, as of January 29, totaled 36,732 including 15,673 dead, 7,985 wounded, 8,811 missing and 4,263 prisoners of war.

LOANS AVAILABLE TO FARMERS NOW

In order to help Lawrence county farmers increase their acreage of food and other vital crops this season, the Emergency Crop Loan Office is prepared to help them with feed and crop loans again this year. The interest rate on these loans is one per cent and the money is made available within ten days.

J. J. Nealon, Field Supervisor of the Crop Loan Office will be at the New Castle Post Office, Thursday, Feb. 3, from 10:30 a. m. until 12 noon taking applications from farmers needing cash. There is no red tape, Mr. Nealon advises.

About 31 pounds of household fat are used to make the tires and spares for a two and a half ton, eight wheel army truck.

Report Nazi Agents In Canary Islands

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—An infiltration of Nazi agents into the Canary Islands was reported today.

The Moscow radio in a broadcast recorded by the U. S. foreign broadcast intelligence service said an authoritative source in Lisbon had reported that "250 Hitlerite agents have penetrated in the past four months into the Canary Islands and the Spanish colony of Rio de Oro through the Spanish port of Cadiz."

Most of the agents reportedly are transported by air.

Moreover, the broadcast continued, "The Spanish authorities did not hinder them in any way. Among the ones who left Spain are some Germans and many Spanish and French nationals."

Labor quarters say that these

Hitler agents are assigned especially to wrecking work in French West Africa and in Equatorial Africa which they will reach by way of the island of Fernando Po and Guinea.

They say he has been assured of the position by Sidney Hillman of New York national director of the political action committee, if he wants it. Granger is a Waynesburg attorney.

Drake's first Pennsylvania well at Titusville, England, in 1859, started the flow of low cost crude oil.

PROTECT SCARCE RATIONED INGREDIENTS WITH ROYAL CREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER

Try these light, tender CINNAMON HONEY BUNS

So good you'll get compliments on them by the dozen! But for best results always make them with reliable, cream of tartar ROYAL! For its even, "steady action" helps protect your baking. Helps give light, tender hot breads—high, fine-textured, fresh-keeping cakes. When baking at home, safeguard scarce rationed ingredients. Always use ROYAL cream of tartar BAKING POWDER. Insist on it!

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour 1 egg, well beaten 1 cup milk 1 tablespoon royal cream of tartar 1/2 cup brown sugar 2 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 cup raisins 1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup raisins

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add shortening and mix in thoroughly with a fork. Add beaten egg to milk and add to dry ingredients to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured board and toss lightly until outside looks smooth. Roll out 1/4 inch thick; brush with softened margarine, sprinkle with brown sugar, cinnamon and raisins. Roll up as for jelly roll. Cut into 2-inch pieces. Mix 4 tablespoons honey with 4 tablespoons brown sugar. Spread this mixture on bottom of well-kneaded 8-inch square pan. Place pieces of dough in pan, cut side up. Bake in moderate oven at 350° F. about 1 hour. Remove from pan at once, turning upside down to serve. Makes 9.

Waste Paper Depots Named For Campaign

Citizens Asked To Aid By Hauling Paper To Depots
Named For Drive

Temporary storage depots for waste paper were announced today by City Collection Chairman Joseph Hartman. These depots will be used to store the waste paper until the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts can collect it. Many more stations are needed and it is suggested that citizens can aid the collection by taking their waste paper, bundled and tied to the rear of their car.

On February 5, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are expected to be out and assist in getting the paper into trucks and to the freight cars. Persons that wish to aid in contributing a truck for the afternoon of February 5 are asked to call J. Fred Clarke at 2756 or in the evening at 1905.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

No. 25
INCOME FROM ANNUITIES

Annuities have become a popular form of investment in recent years and, because of the nature of annuity income, special treatment is required in the preparation of Federal income tax return.

There are several forms of annuities, but the most common are annuity contracts issued by insurance companies. An endowment insurance policy may be payable to the beneficiary in monthly or annual sums for a period stipulated in the policy. Frequently for the life of the beneficiary, or a person may purchase, for a flat sum, an annuity policy from an insurance company which provides him with a monthly or annual income for life.
In such annuity contracts, a portion of the payments received represents interest on the sum or sums paid for the policy or contract, and a portion represents a gradual return of the principal to the annuitant.

Only that portion of the payments which represents interest on the cost of the policy or contract is taxable income, and for purposes of uniformity the law provides that this portion shall be considered as 3 per cent of the cost until there has been excluded from gross income an amount equal to the principal sum paid for the policy. Thereafter, the entire amount of the annuity is taxable income.

Annuity income, accordingly, must be reported in the Federal income tax return, whether the annuity is a gift received from someone else, or received as the proceeds, to a beneficiary of a life insurance policy issued to another.

If the annuity derives from a straight annuity contract, then the cost to be shown would be the amount of the single premium paid for the policy. If the annuity is received by the policyholder of an endowment insurance contract, payable in installments to the policy-holder, then the cost is the sum of the premiums paid for the policy.

In addition to the cost of the policy, as stated above, there must be considered the amount of the annuity income received during the year. The portion of this annuity income which is taxable, namely 3 per cent of the cost of the policy, is the amount to be entered in item 2 of short Form 1040A or item 5 of long Form 1040; the balance is nontaxable and is to be applied against the cost of the policy. When the taxpayer has received nontaxable income in this manner equaling the cost of the policy, thereafter the whole annuity income each year must be entered as taxable income.

These principles for the treatment of annuity income apply also in general to retirement income, annuity pensions, and other forms of annuities. In the case of retirement income and pensions, where no payments have been made for the income, then the whole amount of the income is taxable (except for pensions to War veterans and their families).

Pensions or retirement pay received from employees' trusts should be treated in the same way as annuities. If the trust is one which meets the statutory tests for exemption from income tax, the amounts contributed by the employee, if any, constitute his basic cost of the annuity; if he made no payments to the trust, his cost is zero. If, however, the trust is not exempt from tax, contributions to the trust by the employer are treated as additional compensation to the employee, taxable to him when credited to the trust, if his rights to a future annuity would not be forfeited by his resignation or discharge occurring before the retirement date. Amounts thus taxed to the employee may be treated as part of his basic cost of the annuity.

Aids War Effort Despite 78 Years

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 1.—(INS)—
Seventy-eight years don't prevent Miss Margaret Drown from helping to promote the war effort.
She lives at the Sarah Reed Home, where she is a telephone operator.
Besides, she contributes her services gratis to St. Vincent's hospital by folding babies' garments four days a week. She intends to keep the hospital job as long as the labor shortage continues.

Sister Anna Marie, hospital superintendent, who calls Miss Drown
"our Angel of Mercy," says she folds about an average of 578 garments a day and stays on the job until her work is done.

Too Much Postwar Thinking Evident

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—Although the shortage era is passing, new shortages can develop overnight.
Albert Home Burchfield, Jr., warned when he resigned as district manager of the war production board at Pittsburgh.

The biggest job for the board now, he said, is distribution of tools and excess equipment.

"We get an average of 25 requests daily for tools," he explained before resigning. "More than a million dollars worth of tools are routed through this office every week."
Regarding equipment for war, he said the accent is on steel plates and landing craft, but the opening of a second front in Europe could create shortages all along the pro-

District To Have Rubber Industry When War Halts

Current developments indicate that the Pittsburgh district will have a full-fledged rubber industry when the war ends.

At Jeannette, the Pennsylvania
Rubber Company is building a 40,000-square foot addition to its plant to increase output of synthetic rubber by 30 per cent.

The B. F. Goodrich Company proposes to install rubber-manufacturing equipment at nearby DuBois.
In operation and running full blast is the huge Koppers United Company's Synthetic Rubber Plant at Kobuta, Beaver County, where chemicals for the rubber substitute are made. The products are known as butadiene and styrene.

Meanwhile, plans are under way for creation of a number of small manufacturing concerns to develop new lines of post-war products for the Pittsburgh area in a diversification program.

Will Transfer 3200 Workers From Areas Of Explosives Plants

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—(INS)—
The Pennsylvania war manpower commission disclosed today that it was prepared to transfer more than 3,200 workers to other areas experiencing labor scarcities after explosives plants at Williamsport and Meadville suspended operations.

H. Raymond Mason, acting state director, revealed that the release of workers at both plants will be spread over more than a month to permit "the orderly transfer of these workers to other war jobs for which they are qualified." He said approximately 1,900 employees were expected to be affected at the Keystone Ordnance works at Meadville and more than 1,300 at the Pennsilvania Ordnance works at Williamsport.

Notre Dame Cathedral, Paris, has keeps watch over them.

Uruguay hat manufacturers are

Youngsters Learn To Operate Farms

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—(INS)— Pennsylvania's farms are producing many valuable harvests, but the one which will probably have the most lasting value is the "crop" of youngsters who are learning to operate this huge industry in the future.

Much of the credit for this training belongs to 4-H Clubs, whose 21,000 members within the state carry on poultry, dairy and general farming as tests of citizenship as well as agricultural ability.

Although less than 20 years old,
the movement has grown rapidly.

Its membership increased 24 per cent during the past year.

Among specialized 4-H Clubs are 2,291 boys and girls interested in pork production, whose combined porkers equal 1,305,000 pounds.
Nearly 400 baby beef club members own 397,000 pounds "on the hoof."

Farm girls are interested in "putting up" farm products. During the past year Pennsylvania club members preserved more than 350,000 quarts of fruits and vegetables.

But the record of which 4-Hers are most proud is the purchase of $176,000 worth of war bonds and stamps by their members.

A new "M" class super-blimp will soon be patrolling the Atlantic coast for submarines along with the current "K" class, which the "M" will exceed in size by 50 per cent.

Tarawa Atoll Good Airbase

Delayed Report Tells Of Speedy Conversion Of Captured Island

By MAC R. JOHNSON
Representing the Combined
American Press

Distributed by International News Service
BETH, GILBERT ISLANDS, Jan. 19.—(Delayed)—Tarawa Atoll, a churned mess of bodies, steel, coconut trees, and gouged coral, has been ironed into a flat, effective airbase.

According to the commanding officer of the Atoll, there was hardly a place to pitch a tent on the island when occupation forces took over from the marines who stormed and took the Jap stronghold last November.

Officers and men of all the armed forces, paced by workhorse seabebe outfits working daylight to dark shifts, have already built a livable tent city on the island.

But the United States paid its price in casualties for one purpose—to win new airbases in the Gilberts—and the airfield received top priority in men and labor when the occupation forces hit the beach.

Eighteen hours after their arrival on the fifth day of the campaign, the runway—now stretched well beyond the original 5,000 feet of the Jap airfield—received its first American plane.

Hawkins field, named for a marine hero who was killed in the taking of Tarawa after wiping out three pillboxes single handed, has never refused an incoming plane.

Since completion of the runway, mess halls have been erected, and cots, tents, and a supply of fresh water adequate enough to supply 10 gallons per day to each man have been provided. Roads have been built, and the wrecked Jap pier repaired to provide unloading facilities for surface craft.

The commanding officer, speaking of the reconstruction work and the personnel on the Atoll, said: "I take my hat off to every man. They were wonderful."

He pointed out that the men were frequently forced to dig foxholes after laboring through a twelve hour shift when Jap bombers roared overhead at night.

The Japs left some anti-personnel mines on the island, but they caused no casualties.

One big problem was burying the Jap dead. After the close of the campaign American troops took 204 bodies out of one blockhouse, and 117 out of another.

The Japs had some 500,000 gallons of gas on the Atoll, and the American forces have been using it for motor vehicles. The low octane content of Jap gas precludes its use in U. S. planes.

Among the wrecked Jap defenses of the Atoll are two eight inch coastal guns which were knocked out by naval shelling and aerial bombing. Occupation officers believe the guns were British pieces moved from Singapore by the Japs.

Objective of the course is to prepare First Aid instructor candidates who are already familiar with Red Cross First Aid procedure.

To take the course, which will be given by Joseph Roy Zoller, Red Cross field representative in First Aid, Water Safety, and Accident Prevention, it is necessary to have been a First Aid instructor or to have had advanced First Aid.

It will be a fifteen hour course and will be held nightly from Monday through Friday from 7 to 10 p. m. at the George Washington junior high school.

Mr. Zoller, who will instruct the course, has had 30 years experience in Red Cross work. A resident of Johnstown, Pa., he joined the national Red Cross staff in 1942.

During his stay here he will speak at assembly programs of high schools throughout the chapter.

Rotarians A. R. Heizman Gives Interesting Talk On Subject Monday

Rotary club members heard an interesting talk by one of their members, A. R. Heizman, who gave a history of the science of astrology, at the noon luncheon meeting of the club in The Castleton, Monday noon.

He told of how the ancients put great store by the stars and the signs of the zodiac, and how they were able to predict a great many things in advance by reading the signs of the heavens.

He read the horoscope of several of the members, which proved of great interest, particularly to the other members of the club. He stated that many people today place great store in the signs of the stars, and that if they accept them as guide posts, are able to avoid many confusing situations.

Pvt. Don McGill, who is stationed in Chicago, was a guest of the club.

Flying Fortress Badly Shot Up But Gets Home

Johnstown, Pa., Officer In Charge Of Badly Damaged
Plane In Remarkable
Flight

By JOSEPH WILLICOMBE, JR.
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

A FLYING FORTRESS STATION, England, Feb. 1.—Through a miracle of flying skill, determination and heroism under the most difficult combat conditions, the pilot and crew of the Flying Fortress Whirlaway literally hedge-hopped home to England after Sundays Brunswick raid, officials revealed today.

The Whirlaway flew at 1,500 feet up the deadly Ruhr valley into Holland and France to cross the channel and crash-land in an English wheat field. The way home was one continual barrage of anti-aircraft fire and the opposition of enemy fighters.

It took Second Lieut. Donald P. McCall of Johnstown, Pa., a good three hours to complete the homeward run and conclude the 12th mission of the crew.

The ship had 400 anti-aircraft shell and 20-millimeter cannon holes scattered over the entire structure. Four feet of the left wing had been sheared off. A hole in the No. 2 engine measured a square yard. The left wing was riddled and the radio was smashed. The left horizontal stabilizer was out of commission.

Most of the homeward flight was made on the two right engines. The ship, in fact, resembled a flying pepper pot, and only the ingenuity of McCall and the crew pulled them through.

McCall said they shot down three enemy fighters and probably got another.

Col. Maurice A. Preston, commanding officer of this station, said the exploit definitely proves that replacement crews are tops and "a guide to all crews who follow them."

SINKING FUND

The Sinking Fund Committee was organized on Monday morning following the meeting of the county commissioners. The board is composed of the county commissioners, the county treasurer, and the county controller. County Commissioner Earl R. Wimer was elected chairman of the committee. County Controller Andrew M. Dadds, secretary and County Treasurer Frank W. Hill, treasurer.

It was decided to put $56,000 county money into war bonds. This amount was subscribed in short term bonds previously and the bonds expired on December 1. All funds in the sinking fund are earmarked for bond retirement and interest payments.

DIVORCE REFUSED

In an opinion handed down Monday, Judge John G. Lamore refused the divorce application of James E. Locke over Emma Hazel Locke. The judge said in his opinion that the grounds of desertion were not substantiated in that the defendant had attempted to resume with his wife but testimony seemed to prove that he had been associated with other women.

OCD NOTES

Activities of OCD Workers Are Outlined Here

Representatives of the City OCD attended the meeting of the Lawrence County Council of Defense in the Court House Saturday. At this meeting a verbal report was heard from representatives of the Lawrence County Council of Defense who attended an OCD meeting at Harrisburg. The report covered various phases of the different groups connected with civilian defense and does not offer much change in the procedure from what has been done in the past, although we will publish official bulletins as quickly as they are received in this office concerning the changes.

It has been published in the past that blackouts should be discontinued. OCD members should disregard such notices. When you hear the sirens and air raid alarms sounding for a drill, take your respective station. The drills will be continued.

Post 6-2, Sampson street, will hold their regular business meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Ed Johnson, senior warden, will be in charge.

South Side Board
Of Trade Meeting

South Side Board of Trade will have its annual meeting at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at The Castleton. It is announced today.

... to have him back home again!

what would that be worth to you?

One real way to help bring an end to the war:
Keep war plants rolling ...
save Natural Gas these 8 ways!

- Don't use your kitchen range for heating.
- Winter-condition your home through insulation, storm sash, weatherstripping and caulking.
- Don't waste Gas by washing dishes or hands in hot running water.
- Avoid excessive room temperatures by proper setting of thermostat.
- Close off rooms you do not use; close bedroom doors at night if windows are open; see that fireplace dampers are closed.
- Eliminate the use of Gas to supplement other fuels.
- Check your heating plant, replace or clean filters, insulate your water heater.
- Learn to cook with low flame in small amounts of water to save Gas and vitamins.

After the war ...

Right now, if you're not using Gas heat, we are not permitted to serve you, nor can you buy heating equipment. The war comes first with all of us. But after victory comes ... then, as restrictions are lifted, you'll find yourself able to enjoy to the fullest the many advantages of clean, low-cost, automatic Gas heating. One forward step today would be to insulate and storm window your home. That will save fuel now and give you many advantages later.

AROUND CITY HALL

City council proposes to stick to their guns and oppose any effort to the West Ridge Bus system to obtain a writ of public convenience at this time to operate helicopters—following the war. According to the solons who authorized Mayor John F. Haven to oppose the company's application, soon to be heard by the PUC now is not the time for the granting of such a privilege. Furthermore, Solicitor Robert White anticipates a turn down by the PUC of the application because one of the requisites for granting it is necessity and he maintains the company will be unable to do this because he asserted there is no present necessity.

The company operates buses and White maintains that if a certificate were granted now it would constitute a monopoly.

"All action should be postponed until following the war," White stated. "The company cannot show a necessity exists. There is no excuse for me attending the hearing. We have no testimony to offer. I have asked for a copy of the testimony and have requested to be allowed a hearing before the matter is disposed of."

"Talk about protecting freedom."

INCREASE COAL PRICE
WASHINGTON Feb. 1.—(INS)—The OPA today had ordered an increase of 45 cents a ton on anthracite coal to cover the added costs of operating the mines seven days a week during February.

Fuel Administrator Harold L. Ickes recently proposed operation of the mines on Sundays in order to boost the output of hard coal and avert an extreme shortage.

Miners will receive double time for Sunday work.

GOVERNOR GREEN GETS TOUGH JOB
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 1.—(INS)—Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois looked forward today with some misgivings to the task he has set for himself.

At a Rotary club bond rally, the governor offered to move the lawn of the person or company pledging the largest purchase of war bonds.

After some lively bidding the service of Gov. Green were auctioned off to Donald E. Schweitzer, representing the Allis-Chalmers, for $460,000.

Asked if the chief executive would have to mow the entire yard of the plant, Schweitzer replied firmly: "The company is prepared to sow a 25-acre tract with tough timothy."

HEAVY BUYING IN SOME ISSUES

Easier Undertone Prevails In Stock Market During Morning Trading

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The stock market had an easier undertone today, despite heavy buying in a few special issues. Strength in these latter stocks failed to spread to the rest of the list, and the market drifted irregularly lower after a steady opening. Losses, however, were generally fractional.

Sales ran at a slightly faster pace than in yesterday's session. American Distilling, strong yesterday, continued higher, up more than a point at one time. Chief features of the session were the three most active issues in yesterday's trading, International Telephone, Pullman, and Engineers Public Service, all of which rose fractionally on heavy turnover. Steels, rails and rubbers eased fractionally, while aviation and oils moved steady, as were most of the specialties. Pepsi-Cola was up a point at one time.

Bond trading was moderately active with prices firm.

LET'S ALL BACK THE ATTACK WITH AN EXTRA WAR BOND

4TH WAR LOAN

Not too little—too late

AMERICAN troops are fighting and occupying strategic bases at 56 points strung halfway around the world.

Regardless of distance from home shores, our fighting men must receive a steady stream of supplies and equipment. And convoys are carefully scheduled to reach them on exact timing.

For more than two years, Erie and other American railroads have been meeting the timing of convoy sailings. Troops, equipment, and supplies must arrive exactly when they are needed for loading so there will be no congestion—no delays.

Timing is of the utmost importance on both the battlefield and homefront.

The timing of your War Bond purchases is of great importance, too. Right now, today, your government needs your loan to help keep supplies of vital war materials flowing to our men so they will never have too little—too late.

Governor Bricker Sees G.O.P. Victory Certain This Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, declared today that a major fight within the Republican ranks is the only thing that could halt a G.O.P. presidential victory in 1944—and we're not going to have that," he emphasized.

The governor is in Washington for a meeting of the executive committee of the governors' conference. "He is leaving Washington this afternoon. Bricker, formally in the battle for the Republican presidential nomination, said his visit today was strictly "non-political" and related only to the session of the nine-member executive committee of governors.

"We'll have a Republican victory in November," Bricker said. "The trend is on—you can't miss it. The only thing that could change the situation would be a major fight within our own ranks, and we're not going to have that. The picture is very encouraging from the party point of view."

"I WAS CONSTIPATED FOR MANY YEARS!"

Now I'm "Regular" Every Morning!"

Constipated? Then here's an unsolicited letter you'll want to read: "I'd been troubled with common constipation for many years. Was taking laxative and pills all the time, and feeling very weak and run down. 3 months ago, I began eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily. Now, I have a regular, natural movement every morning, which helps me feel my best!" Mr. Samuel D. Blank, 292 Kings Highway, Brooklyn, New York.

What is this seeming magic of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation — namely, lack of sufficient "cellulose" elements in the diet. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements, which help the friendly colonic flora buff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out." It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find lasting relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

'Canes-Wilson Play Here Tonight

Washington Court Battle Starts At 8:15; Tiny 'Canes In Prelim

Somewhat incensed by a two-game losing streak, New Castle high's cagers try to regain their winning form tonight when they bounce and shoot against Woodrow Wilson high of Youngstown.

The George Washington junior high mix starts at 8:15 o'clock and follows a prelin featuring the good-looking Ne-Ca-Hi Reserves.

In the hot scholastic race in the Ohio town, the visitors reached the top last Saturday night, disposing of Ursuline in easy does it manner, 49-14. Forward Gibson and Center Bush come here listed as the Ohioans' chief trouble makers. Against Ursuline the duo split 22 points.

Coach Bridenbaugh will have to rearrange his lineup due to the absence of Forward Bob Jackson and Guard Ted Lewis, who finished their string last Friday against Ellwood City. Andrews, Wimers and Bob Preston are three of the starters with Fisher almost certain to be among the five at tip-off time.

This marks the first cage fray between the schools.

REVOLVER CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

Revolver club members will hold their regular meeting in The Cathedral tonight at 8.

One firearms class finishes its course tonight. Regular shooting highlights the program.

Secretary Charles Schweinsberg today announced that plans are under way for a new Old Homestead Night program to be presented, February 22 or 29 have been selected as tentative dates.

A display of old and unique firearms, quick and exhibition shooting, motion pictures and a lunch from part of the program for the novel affair.

Plans are underway for the opening of another firearms class on February 15.

Hagg's Countryman In New York Meet

Gundel Hagg may not be seen in action this season, but fellow-countryman, Sune Carlsson, will be on hand to defend a national indoor championship at Madison Square Garden on February 26.

Hagg wins his miles in a run while Sune of the Fredericksfod I. F. Stockholm, Sweden, wins them in a walk. Sune—the Sune the better, they call him—triumphed in the national indoor mile walk in 7:20.4 a year ago. Sune is a member of the crew of the S. S. Gripsholm.

Labor Called Upon To Provide Sports For War Workers

Physical Disability Causing Loss Of 200 Million Man Hours Annually

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(INS)—A nation-wide campaign for peak physical fitness among the United States' fifty million home-front workers is underway. The campaign was launched by the Federal Security agency's committee on physical fitness which disclosed that 400 million man days or three billion, 200 million man hours are lost annually to production of planes, tanks, guns and other war essentials from absences due to physical disability.

Management, labor and local community leaders were called upon to cooperate in helping to provide opportunity for some form of physical fitness activity, such as sports, calisthenics, gardening, or hiking for every war worker.

Harmon Gives Send-Off

First Lieut. Tom Harmon, of the Army Air Forces, gave a send-off to the drive for physical fitness within industry. Just back from the China front, the former Michigan football star sent this message to the FSA committee:

"I saw the need for peak physical fitness on the fighting front every day. It saved my life twice."

"This program launched for industrial physical fitness I know would have the support of every fighting man on the front," he said. Harmon's message was read to the committee by war manpower commissioner and FSA director Paul V. McNutt who declared that the nation will have to bear "an increasing war load" for the next six months at least.

Explaining that "I know something of the timing of this war," McNutt said:

War Load Up

"We're going to have an increasing war load for at least six months. We'll have to do more with less; therefore, those we have must be physically fit. Physical fitness is vitally important today. The kind of a job industry does depends on how fit the man is doing the job."

John B. Kelly, former Olympic champion and chairman of the committee on physical fitness, disclosed the appointment of a special commission on industrial physical fitness, headed by Dr. William P. Jacobs, sportsman and president of Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C. "Since America is the wealthiest country in the world, it should also be the healthiest," Kelly said. "The nation must think in terms of health and physical fitness. It is patriotic to be fit."

Pottery Whips JB, 18-13; UEF Routs Universals, 39-18; First Baptists Cop

In Monday night's feature battle, unbeaten Shenango Pottery dented Johnsons' second half title hopes by handing the first half crown wearers an 18-13 Industrial league setback on Y.M.C.A. floor.

The Pottery held a 10-9 edge at the close of the first half. The low-scoring fray continued down to the final whistle. Hughes and Santangelo guided the Pottery to their second straight triumph. Pitzer was top man for the Pottery with a half dozen points. This was the JB's second half inaugural.

Borowicz Shines
Norbert Borowicz popped in 15 points as United Engineering rolled in its second consecutive victory, a 39-18 triumph over the Universal Pottery. The UEF was out front by a 19-7 count at half-time and had an easy time of it throughout. Dunlap and Grassel were standouts for the losers. UEF is tied with Shenango Pottery for first place.

In the lone Church loop tussle, First Baptists walloped Central Presbyterians, 55-17. Lutz and J. Zeigler had a field day, the former pitching 20 points and the latter 10. Peterson, Montgomery and Johns starred for the Presbyterians.

Muhlenberg Drubs W. Virginia, 76-45

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 1.—(INS)—The Muhlenberg Mules overcame a 27-22 deficit at half time to night to turn in a resounding 76-45 victory over West Virginia before 2500 fans in Rockne hall. The Mules held only a 38-36 advantage halfway through the third period as they racked up their 14th win in 16 starts this season.

K. Pulaski Cagers Face Heavy Card

K. Pulaski cagers face an unusually heavy card this week, facing four opponents.

Tonight at 8 the KPs entertain the Aluminum Works quint of the Industrial loop. Tomorrow night, the Pulaski athletes perform on the Y. M. C. A. boards battling the National Radiator five at 9:30 o'clock.

Thursday's program pairs the K. Pulaski and East Brook Boosters on East Brook high court at 8.

Sunday the K. P. passers hop to Warren, O., for a return engagement with the strong Warren Federals. Earlier, the Ohioans took the measure of the Oaklanders.

Last Sunday the United Engineering defeated the Pulaski quint, 44-32.

Sharon-Farrell WPIAL Members

Ballots Cast During Past Week; Mercer Schools Strengthen League

Western Pennsylvania schools today greeted the announcement that Sharon and Farrell high have been admitted to the WPIAL by unanimous vote.

Secretary J. Foster Gehrett announced that the decisions committee had recommended that a ballot be taken during the past week.

Only favorable returns were cast. Admission of the Mercer county schools to the circuit will facilitate the work of faculty managers in this area. Because of the geographical disadvantages, schools in this locality have found the job of booking five Class AA football opponents extremely arduous.

With Sharon and Farrell close at hand, New Castle Butler high and institutions in the Beaver Valley can figure on two Double A games without having to travel all over the WPIAL area oftentimes in vain.

Sharon and Farrell probably will make their league debut in football. The schools already have games booked with New Castle. If the two schools are eligible for the WPIAL football crown next fall, New Castle will play seven instead of five loop frays.

In basketball, another section probably will be organized.

Perennially standouts in football and basketball, especially in the cage sports, Sharon and Farrell will strengthen the league tremendously.

High Jump, Shot Champs To Vie In A.A.U. Meet

Two champions signified their intention of defending titles in the American A. A. U. championship meet at Madison Square Garden on February 26.

Sergt. Joshua Williamson of the Holabird Signal department, Baltimore, Md., co-holder of the high jump honors, and Pvt. Bernard Mayer of the Marines, invincible a year ago in the shot put, plan to be on hand for the 56th title meet.

Gehrig has a total of 2,505 votes so far, and his closest adversary is Ward Cliff of the New York Giants professional football team, with 1,555. Third in the list of sports heroes is Babe Ruth, the one-time sultan of swat, who has 1,081 votes.

Late Gehrig Leads Popularity Contest

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Almost 1,000 votes ahead of his nearest competitor, the late Lou Gehrig, the "iron man" of baseball, led the popularity contest of the sports war bond committee today. Each vote represented purchase of a $25 war bond by the fan who selected his name.

Gehrig has a total of 2,505 votes so far, and his closest adversary is Ward Cliff of the New York Giants professional football team, with 1,555. Third in the list of sports heroes is Babe Ruth, the one-time sultan of swat, who has 1,081 votes.

Hornets-Hershey To Tangle Tonight

HERSHEY, Pa., Feb. 1.—(INS)—The Hershey Bears primed themselves to clinch the Pennsylvania trophy tonight on the home ice of the Pittsburgh Hornets. The cup is awarded annually to one of the American League hockey teams in Pennsylvania.

OLD TIME CAGERS IN BENEFIT GAME

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Basketball fans were chuckling today after watching creaky old-time stars collect 48 points in five five-minute periods, in which they demonstrated old Central league rules.

The players ranged in age from 37 to 58. Spectators said it looked like a cross between a football, a hop-step-jump contest and a rough game of tag. The Southside team moved out a group representing Homestead, Duquesne and the Monongahela valley, 25-23.

The show was staged for the benefit of the infantile paralysis sports fund.

Engineers-Stars Play Wednesday

Industrial league opponents face non-loop competition on the Y. M. C. A. court Wednesday night.

The United Engineering crew entertains the New Wilmington All-Stars at 7:30 o'clock followed by a clash featuring the Johnson Bronze and an opponent to be carded to-day. National Radiators and K. Pulaski flip in the nightcap at 9:30.

Bessemer Seeks '21' Lead Tonight

Cementers Pull Away From Wampum By Vanquishing Union High

Safely nestled in first place since the Section 21 race started in December, Wampum probably will find itself in second place by tomorrow morning.

All this will come about as a result of tonight's schedule which pairs Bessemer currently sharing the top spot with the Indians, and Union Township on Union floor.

Cementers already own a 55-27 victory over the Scotland Lakers and are heavily favored to win Wampum in the meantime, enjoys a rest.

Union Improving
Union is finding the sledding unusually rough but has been showing a lot of improvement lately and may prove a stiffer foe than hitherto.

Union has dropped nine contests in 11, defeating New Wilmington and East Brook the loops easiest aggregations.

Bessemer's flunkers have been hardened by a robust card which has included games with practically all of the district's leading B blues and a few A quints. The red and black has done quite well considering the calibre of opponents, winning three and losing seven.

Third place Shenango and Mt. Jackson should emerge triumphant. The Shenangos entertain East Brook while the Jacks battle New Wilmington at Mt. Jackson.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Have you noticed any September morn' or hairless squirrels gambling in your rear yard? Why are their bodies devoid of hair? This was difficult for some to explain but not Owen Fox, the w. k. naturalist. Salt in bread, he cites as the reason.

Several days ago a lover of squirrels felt sorry for the bare-barked urchins of the Sciuridae family. He believed they were starvin' to death or had some disease. He communicated with Fox whose knowledge of animals, trees and fish is quite extensive.

"I'll tell you what's wrong," Fox told the animal lover. "Someone in the vicinity has been feeding bread to the squirrels. There is salt in bread. Salty bread is not good food for squirrels. Unless they stop eating it and regain their 'coat' they'll freeze," Fox explained.

So, folks, there you have it. In compiling a diet for said squirrel just forget the bread part because it contains salt. A few nuts dipped in olive oil, however, will help the squirrels. The coat will grow and when it does, it will be shiny.

Executive directors of the American Bowling Congress will hold their annual meeting in Chicago, April 14 and 15. This will be the second war-time session since the annual convention with delegates at Columbus, O. in conjunction with the annual tournament of 1942.

BRAVES DROP SALVO

BOSTON—Boston Braves sent two right handed pitchers to Indianapolis to complete a deal for Stewart Hofferth, young catcher. The pitchers were the veteran right hander, Manny Salvo, and Dave Odom. President Bob Quinn said the Braves still owed Indianapolis one player for Hofferth.

Titans Battle Pitt Wednesday Night

Westminster Guns For 8th Triumph; Tech At New Wilmington Saturday

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 1.—Holding possession of the runner-up position in the mythical district race, Westminster's Towering Titans concentrate their attention this week on Pittsburgh's cage representatives.

When the Washabaughmen invade Pittsburgh tomorrow they will be out to add victory No. 9 to their continuous winning streak over the Panthers. In the heated rivalry between the district rivals the Titans hold a decided edge with a record of 10 wins and five setbacks. The locals piled up their highest single game total of the present campaign when they routed the Carlismen 82-61 in the first fray.

Max Hannum and the winless Carnegie Tech Skibos pay their respects to the Titans Saturday when the two rivals get together on the local court. This attraction marks the next to last home game for Westminster.

Although showing a steady improvement since the 61-38 Titan rout in the opening meeting, the Titans have been unable to break into the win column and at present hold a record of 10 straight losses. The extended losing streak has been due chiefly to injuries which have plagued the civilian manned Techmen throughout the season.

Idle stuff and things: Nick Lukats, former Notre Dame griddler who later took a fling at acting, now is a lieutenant in the navy. . . "Red" Ormsby, the American League umpire, is calling 'em as a law enforcement officer in Cook County, Ill. . . "Dazzy" Vance, the former Brooklyn speedballer, is in the market for a good big league coaching job. . . Washington Senators club, listed as one of the best money making outfits in the majors, is capitalized at only $200,000! . . .

N.B.C. Planning Player-Fan Club

Baseball Congress Seeks To Perpetuate Game; Group Meets In Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(INS)—The National Baseball Congress, meeting in Chicago, launched a campaign today to organize old-time baseball player and fan groups on a nationwide basis.

Asserted purpose of the drive is to perpetuate the game as a national pastime during the war period. A national association is to be formed, with membership charters to be issued to old-time groups.

Function of each body will be to organize semi-pro leagues, into a national organization and to establish district tournaments.

Program All Set
Plans call for creation of "halls of fame" by each group, who will select annually three persons who have accomplished the most for baseball in its section. The names of the persons selected will be perpetuated in the annual edition of the National Baseball Guide.

The congress approved 1944 starting dates and sites of 22 state tournaments, the winners of which qualify further in the program to determine the national semi-pro championship at Wichita next August 11-25.

Running Bases In Reverse Plan Gets Brush Off

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(INS)—That slightly demented form of baseball, base running in reverse will not be adopted by the National Baseball Congress for the 1944 season, it was announced today.

The proposal had been advocated by President Ray Dumont of the congress, which administers the affairs of semi-professional baseball, but the directors, meeting in Chicago, turned thumbs down on the idea.

The plan would permit a batter to run either to first or to third, continuing in the same direction in which he started.

Curlers Gather In Utica Friday

UTICA, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Outstanding curlers from Detroit, New York, Boston and other eastern points, will invade Utica Friday for three days of grand national competition at the Utica Curling club.

As in the past the curlers will compete for the Mitchell medal, the Allen memorial medal and the country club cup. Each club in the Grand National Curling club is entitled to two rinks in the Mitchell event, and one rink in the Allen. The country club cup matches are limited to losers in the preliminary and first round matches of the Mitchell and Allen events except that the clubs represented by only one team will not be eligible to compete.

SPORTS

Sports Bulletin Board:—

Southpaw "Billy" Andrews, one of the best field goal makers in several seasons, is leading Ne-Ca-Hi's flunkers with a mark of a fraction more than 10 points per tussle. "Billy," whose daddy, "Chuck," was quite an athlete in his scholastic days, has swished 133 points in 13 clashes. Fred Wimer is holding down second place with 119, followed by Bob Jackson, who hung up his jersey last Friday, with 70. Guard Preston has collected 59 points. Ted Lewis, who became an ex-Cane last Friday night, looped 31 points.

Handsome Emil "Mose" Mancine, who plays golf like Fred Astaire dances, has been transferred from Fort Douglas, Utah, to Camp Roberts, California. The ex-Sylvan Heights pro headed for Hollywood and the movies several years ago. He and his close friend, Robert Sterling (nee Bill Hart), severed relations with the cinema industry for the U. S. service colors at about the same time. Mancine, not as successful as Sterling, nevertheless, was making great strides until he answered the call. . . .

Sergt. Frank Gallo, swift as lightning during Bessemer high football days, is furloughing. He's stationed in Wyoming. . . Joe Genger, who saw action with the marines in the Southwest Pacific for almost 15 months, has completed his first visit home in a year and a half. . . Lieut. Lee Fox, a member of Westminster's great 1940 quint (Spak, Wasik, Miller, Fox and Dummire) stopped in while passing through town a few days

Duff Declines To Be Candidate

Will Not Enter Primaries As Opponent To Senator James J. Davis

By JOHN PAGET
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—The refusal of Attorney General James H. Duff to enter the 1944 election campaign forced Republican leaders to turn elsewhere in their search for an organization candidate for the United States senate.

The Pittsburgh attorney, who has been in ill health for more than a year, issued a short statement last night declining the organization's endorsement for the $10,000-a-year post.

Not a Candidate

"To end any conjecture there may be respecting my attitude on the United States senatorship," he stated, "I am not and will not be a candidate."

Advised of Duff's withdrawal from the race for the seat now held by Sen. James J. Davis of Pittsburgh, who is expected to run for re-election, Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor commented: "We have another candidate. He may come from eastern Pennsylvania. That's all I can say now."

There were reports that organization support would be thrown behind Weldon B. Hebburn of Delaware county, senate majority leader, for the April 25 primary election in opposition to Davis, whom Republican leaders seek to defeat.

Rowland Mentioned

Organization slates for both the Republican and Democratic parties were expected to be completed and made public this week preparatory to the circulation of nominating petitions Saturday for the primary election. The Democrats will endorse their candidates Friday at a nominating convention in Harrisburg.

In addition to Hebburn, Republicans whose names have been mentioned for party endorsement for senator include William B. McFall, Pittsburgh banker; Congressman at Large William I. Troutman of Northumberland, and Lt. Gov. John C. Bell, Jr. of New Castle, former secretary of properties and supplies. The Democratic party candidate is expected to come from the east.

Geography's Place Made More Secure

Global War Establishes Geography Firmly in Educational Scheme For Years

STATE COLLEGE, Feb. 1.—Global war has made geography's place in the educational world secure—for the duration, at least.

World War I gave impetus to geography as a college subject, according to Dr. Raymond E. Murphy, professor of geography at the Pennsylvania State College, but this interest soon died and prior to Pearl Harbor, comparatively few colleges included it in their curricula.

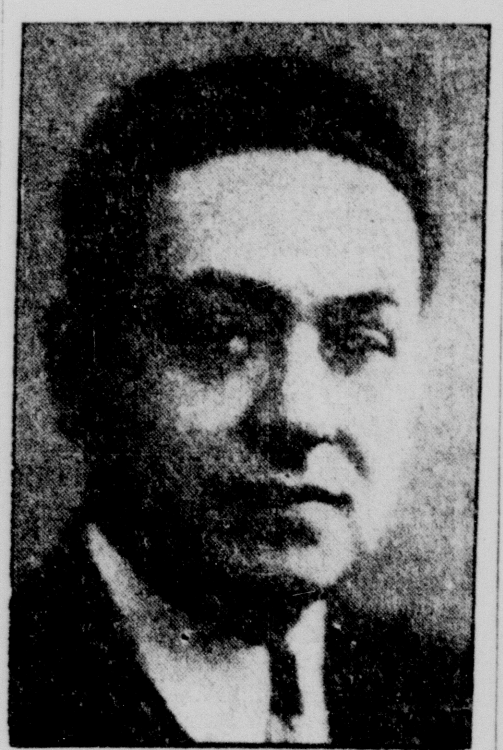

With the inauguration of army and air force training programs, however, it gained new stature and was added to the curriculum at literally hundreds of colleges and universities at which it was not previously represented.

Advocating retention of this subject in the post-war curriculum, Dr. Murphy recommended a regional world survey as the course best designed to provide "an up-to-date picture of the various countries, considering in a general way such basic factors as climate and topography but emphasizing particularly man's distribution, activities, and problems."

The Penn State professor described geography as an "ideal foundation" for the study of history, claiming that some of the most glaring errors made in the New York Times history text were due primarily to a lack of knowledge of geography.

Which Hollywood Stars Fill Their Stockings Best?

Brave Visitor From Hollywood In New York Puts Himself On Spot In Answering

By JEANETTE SMITS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—A brave visitor from Hollywood put himself on the spot today and willingly answered this reporter's question:

"Which 10 Hollywood stars fill their stockings best?"

The visitor started off promptly with "Ginger Rogers," drew a deep breath and named as the other nine:

Marlene Dietrich, Martha Raye, Ann Sheridan, Anne Shirley, Dorothy Lamour, Evelyn Keyes, Constance Dowling, Betty Grable and Alice Faye.

The speaker was talking with authority. His name is Willys De Mond, and for the past 13 years he has been creating, designing and supplying stockings for the Hollywood lovelies in all the studios. In addition, the pin-up girls buy their own stockings, for personal wear, at his Willys of Hollywood shop.

De Mond, who is a chivalrous gentleman and besides, would like to continue in business, hastened to explain that the rather extreme-ities of the 10 champion stocking-fillers did not necessarily rank in the order named.

The stocking expert, in New York to do some research and assemble materials for the stockings which will breathe "Ginger Rogers' legs in her forthcoming opus, 'The Gibson Girl,'" declared:

"The most expensive stockings I ever designed were for Alice Faye. She wore 'them in In Old Chicago.' They cost $2,500 a pair! What's more, she had to have six pairs for the picture."

"What made them so costly? Well, they were very long opera hose—up to here, and they had semi-precious stones—Amethysts, Corals, Topaz Rhinestones and Jade Beads—embroidered and applied up the sides."

The stockings which Ginger Rogers wore in "The Castles" cost the studio a cool $30,000, said De Mond. This sum included his own services as well as a trip to New York during which he visited lace companies to have them duplicate the hosiery Irene Castle originally wore.

De Mond, who designed stockings for Ziegfeld, Earl Carroll and George White beauties for seven years before trekking to the Gold Coast in 1930, said many of the creations he originated for screen stars had become nation-wide fads.

The newest fad, for which he gives his Hollywood-inspired creations credit, is stockings with jeweled clocks and jeweled fronts—worn with cocktail dresses and short evening gowns.

Says Hitler Made Visit To Vitebsk To Urge Defense

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—CBS Correspondent James Fleming reported from Moscow that Adolf Hitler visited the Vitebsk front two weeks ago and told German troops that if Vitebsk falls to the Russians, the red army soon will cross the German frontier.

Fleming was told by a Soviet officer that Hitler, taken near Vitebsk, said Hitler harangued German troops as follows: "You are not fighting to defend me but to defend the road to Germany. If Vitebsk falls, this road is open to the red army and the German frontier will be crossed in a very short time."

The CBS correspondent said Hitler's pep talk was designed primarily to bolster the faltering morale of Germans on the Russian front, but is nonetheless an accurate appraisal of the German position.

"With Nazi's other strong points crumbling before the Russian advance toward East Prussia and the Baltic states, Vitebsk becomes of enormous importance, but it will take more than a Hitler lecture tour to save the desperate Germans there," Fleming said.

POSTWAR TRAFFIC WILL BE PROBLEM

Police Heads Fear Toll May Reach 80,000 Fatalities First Year Of Peace

By TONY ZECCA
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HERSHEY, Pa., Feb. 1.—Police chiefs from 13 eastern states, concluding a two-day regional conference at Hershey, were warned today to guard against postwar traffic problems which may lead to 80,000 fatalities during the first year of peace.

Capt. T. N. Boate, Pennsylvania State Police traffic officer, was slated to map out a program by which the regional members of the International Association of Police Chiefs might formulate plans for coping with the accident toll predicted by Norman Damon, vice president of the Automotive Safety Foundation, Washington, D. C.

Today's agenda also included a discussion of the value of suspending licenses for traffic law enforcement by T. E. Transeau, state director of highway safety, and an address by Samuel W. Gearheart, president of the Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police association, on state and local cooperation.

Damon asserted that "it requires little imagination to picture what will happen with the relaxing of wartime restrictions, with the nation in a holiday mood, and with vehicles and roads in varying stages of disrepair."

Apples may be canned without sugar, and the sweetening added after the can is opened; so if you have a chance to purchase some nice apples, can them too and have them ready when apples are less plentiful than now.
